

ALEXANDRIA, VA.
THURSDAY EVENING, JANUARY 14.

THE RISE in the price of galvanized sheet iron, which, owing to the high price of tinplate, caused by the doubled tariff tax on that article, is now used as a substitute therefor, shows why the manufacturers of the sort of iron referred to were such ardent supporters of the McKinley bill, which imposes the high tax on tinplate. Their assigned reason for exporting a bill which increases the price of tinplate, was that it would create a new industry in this country, tinplate making, and increase the demand for labor; their real reason was that the high price of tinplate, caused by a high tax on it, would diminish the demand for that article, and increase that for galvanized iron, and thereby afford them a plausible excuse for raising the price of the latter—their product, and increasing their own profits.

WHY THE owners of the silver mines in this country and the importers of foreign silver should be allowed to have seventy-five cents worth of their silver coined into a dollar piece is what must be understood by some people, but is certainly incomprehensible to a great many more. Nor can any logic or consistency be found in the action of men who declare against bounties, and yet, at the same time, support such a bill as that referred to. The old and true democratic doctrine on the coinage subject is that the value of money should be inviolable, and that a dollar found on the body of a man fifty years after his death, should be worth a dollar to his heirs.

IN THE earlier and better days of Virginia the New Englandisms that reached her borders broke to ribbons, upon which they were met and returned to their source. But it is different now, and is sad of being repulsed, as they once would have been, they are welcomed, and find lodgment in the very statutes of the State. The House of Delegates yesterday passed a bill compelling the board of directors of the insane asylum to appoint female physicians to the female wards of those asylums, or, in other words, to put the poor female inmates of those asylums in charge of people of their own sex, from this North, and almost as cranky as themselves.

CONGRESSMAN JERRY SIMPSON says the crop reports of the Agricultural Bureau are given to the speculators in advance of the general public, that the seed it purchases at great cost has lost germinating power, and that its employees are appointed for political influence. Now Mr. Simpson is a member of the Farmers' Alliance, and the Agricultural Bureau is run by Secretary Ruske, who knows how to plow and to sow, and to reap and to mow, or rather, says he does, and who is also a farmer's boy; so they will have to fight it out. But there is no doubt of the fact that Mr. Simpson says is right.

IT IS to be hoped that Mr. Holman's resolution, introduced in the U. S. House of Representatives yesterday, may be passed by the large democratic majority in that body; and it will be if those who compose that majority do not repudiate the promises upon which they were elected. No man thoroughly imbued with democratic convictions can object to a declaration in opposition to bounties, that is, to a system which taxes all the people of the country in order to raise money to be given to a favored few, and in favor of the frugal expenditure of the public money.

A GREAT "miration" is now made in some quarters at the recent statement of Congressman Mills to the effect that the next democratic Presidential nominee must be a western man. There is nothing strange in this, certainly nothing strange in the fact that it is Mills' opinion, for long before the commencement of the active campaign for the speakership of the House, that gentleman told the writer of this paragraph he did not think Mr. Cleveland would be the nominee.

IN LONDON to-day 480 grains of silver can be bought for 87 cents. There are only 412 grains of silver in a silver dollar. But, all the same, the coinage committee of the democratic U. S. House of Representatives, as stated in yesterday's GAZETTE, has practically determined to report a bill for the full and unlimited coinage of silver dollars.

JANUARY the first, in this country, is the time of the year in which each creditor arises and goes to the place of abode of his debtor, and taking him by the throat, quotes unto him that harrowing phrase of Scripture, "Pay me that thou owest me!" In this conjuncture, happy is that debtor who is able to run his hand down in his trousers pocket in the confidence that he will find therein the wherewithal to satisfy his creditor. Contrariwise, unhappy is that other (and, alas! too frequent) debtor who may run both his hands in his trousers pockets and find therein nothing with which to settle the just demands that are made upon him. He must then enter into explanations of the manner and extent in which he has been caught in the late times, and so modify the just indignation of his creditor that the hand may be removed from his throat—at least for a season.—Goodson Gazette.

San Jose, California, must be a thrifty place, as an edition of the Mercury printed there, has reached this office, containing no less than forty-four full-sized pages.

FROM WASHINGTON.

[Special Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 14, 1892

The House committee on foreign affairs to-day heard Congressman Rayner of Maryland and Morse of Massachusetts advocate their respective resolutions in respect of the bill in relation to which Hebrews are subjected in Russia.

A private dispatch received here this morning by Senator Matt Baneom announced the death of his brother General Robert Baneom, at his home in Newbern, N. C., last night. General Baneom was a West Pointer and was a Major-General in the Confederate army. For a year or so past he has been in charge of the government work on the improvement of rivers and harbors in North Carolina.

The President has determined that the testimony of Capt. Schly, who turned one hundred and sixty sailors from the ship Baltimore loose in a disreputable part of Valparaiso, in the Chilean matter be forwarded to the Chilean government, and if nothing more be heard from that government within a "reasonable" time, will transmit the whole correspondence in the case to Congress, and let that body do as it deems best.

Some of the democrats of the House are by no means pleased with Mr. Holman for introducing his resolution against bounties and in favor of economy. They say he did so only of his own accord and without any consultation with his fellow party members, and that while they will of course vote for it, they will do so unwillingly because it will make some of their subsequent actions appear inconsistent.

Mr. Olgett spoke in his own behalf this morning before the Senate committee on privileges and elections, and concluded the argument in his contest with Mr. Dabbs for a seat in the Senate as a Senator from Idaho.

In executive session of the Senate to-day the nomination of Louis G. Rathbun to be postmaster at Elmira, N. Y., was recommended to the postoffice committee for further investigation. Rathbun's nomination was opposed by Senator Hill, who lives at Elmira and the action of the Senate was taken to allow the production of further evidence before the committee.

The President has ordered the resignation of the Pennsylvania Federal officers he has dismissed for taking an active part in the election of Blaine delegate to the national republic convention, and has said that he will not work against the administration in which they are paid. He does not pretend that in removing them he was actuated by any regard for the observance of the civil service law.

The following changes in the 4th class post-offices of Virginia were made to-day: Michoud, Va., Albemarle county, H. F. Powell, appointed postmaster, vice J. Y. Good, resigned; Shadwell, Albemarle county, Sallie W. Smith, vice M. T. Tinsdale, resigned; Walker, Fort, Albemarle county, T. A. Brown, vice W. E. Moore, resigned; Zipp, Albemarle county, J. Locksamer, vice J. M. Whittington, resigned.

The friends of the resolution to put the name of Major Halleck, the northern federal officer who was a mob attacked General W. H. Payne, of Warrenton, in this city at the close of the war, under the impression that he was a hero, one of the Lincoln assassins, who would defend him with his life, on the rolls of the Honor-employees, will try to get General Wheeler, of Ala., to introduce that resolution.

J. T. Murray, of New York, familiarly known as "Terpinion," the author of "Good Things in a Cheap Dish," who to-day closed the career of the House rent, went overland, a well-known caterer of this city. It is proposed to set apart quarters in the rent for the special and exclusive use of members and friends whom they may bring with them.

The Pension office to-day decided that the war between the States, as it is termed there, the "war of the rebellion" commenced March 4th, 1861.

North Carolinians here to-day say that notwithstanding President Polk's public assurances to the contrary, it is well known by the Farmers' Alliance of the Northwest that he is in favor of the movement.

Among the nominations sent to the Senate to-day were the following to be postmasters: Martin G. Singer at Basic City; Geo. T. McClintock at Lexington; G. Richardson at Farmville; Wm. H. Money at Bedford City; Thos. C. Shouse at Williamsburg; and Robert A. Friel at Buchanan. Also the name of John W. Watts to be registrar of the land office at Lake View Oregon.

COMPELLED TO SHIELD A FUGITIVE.—

About 3 o'clock yesterday morning a negro burglar burst the glass of the front door of Leonard Chara's fruit store, on D street, adjoining the corner of Ninth street northwest, in Washington. The proprietor was seen down stairs, and with a double-barrel shotgun pointed at the intruder warned him not to move. "You move, and I'll shoot," he said, and the burglar stood as a statue, looking first at the gun and then at the dealer to his wife, as he kept the gunlight with true aim on the negro, "you go after the police and bring them here while I keep the rascal under my gun." The wife started to go out of the front door, but she passed the burglar he seized her, held her between himself and the muzzle of the gun, and in a second had backed out the front door and was expediting up D street. The astonished fruit dealer realized the situation in time to see the burglar speeding up the street, but did not think the law gave him the right to fire at the fugitive, and the quick-witted merchant escaped with his pockets full of choler fruit.

COLORED COUNSEL.—An unprecedented spectacle in Virginia was witnessed in Richmond yesterday. It was two white people in court each represented by a negro lawyer.

Max Mellito, a young white man, appeared against Mrs. Bartha Brenner, whom he charged with stealing the marriage license of her daughter to the prosecutor. Marx and Miss Brenner decided to marry, and all went well until the license had been obtained on November 16. The event was to occur in a few days thereafter, but for some reason it was postponed to December 26. Meantime, the prospective bride asked her betrothed to let her keep the license a few days, as she desired to show it to some friends. Marx agreed. In the meantime somebody poisoned the mind of the young lady against her betrothed, when he discovered that his prospective mother-in-law had the license, which she refused to surrender. Gies Jackson, a colored lawyer, appeared for Marx, and E. A. Randolph represented Mrs. Brenner. The point was made that as the bride-expectant owned one-half interest in the license, there could be no theft of it, so Mrs. Brenner was discharged.

A WONDERFUL BOX OF FISH.—Prize fishing along the whole Carolina coast this season has never been excelled. The number caught has been startling. We have been told of the enormous quantities caught at Morehead and Beaufort. The Elizabeth City Carolinian says the number of bluefish caught about there was never so large before. Tremendous quantities are being brought to that city and shipped every day. Over 20 carloads of fresh fish went off in one day, and still they go. Was the like ever known anywhere before? J. A. The remains of Rev. J. Emory Round, of Baltimore, were buried at Manassas, yesterday.

The people in upper Fauquier have been busy filling their ice houses. The ice was from 8 to 14 inches thick.

The democratic legislative caucus in Richmond last night refused to admit Mr. Goode, of Mecklenburg, to that body.

In Roanoke yesterday a new trial was granted to John Smith, colored, who was convicted of murder in the first degree. The prisoner was taken to Lynchburg for safe keeping.

The report announcing the almost total destruction of the costly Colonnade Hotel at Buena Vista, had, it turns out, for its basis a small fire in the kitchen. Damage not over $100.

Belle Dye, daughter of Joe Dye who has been convicted of the murder of the Kines family in Fauquier, has left her home and the public does not know where she has gone, as she boarded the cars a few days since without a ticket.

The Governor's message and the debt commissioner's report on the subject of the recent agreement for the settlement of the State debt were presented to the Legislature yesterday. It is understood that these papers will be submitted to the two Houses to-day.

John Irving, who was convicted some months ago of being an accessory to the murder of Captain R. C. O'Leary, of Mecklenburg county, and whose punishment was fixed at seventeen years in the penitentiary, has been granted a new trial. The principal to the murder, a negro named Phillips, was hanged. Irving is confined in the jail of Mecklenburg.

A second tragedy has occurred as the result of a feud between the families of McKay and McPherson, residing in York county, in this State. In June last, Mr. J. McKay was murdered, with his little daughter by his side, while eating his dinner in the field where he was working. The murderer was discovered to be a Ralph McPherson, who has been missing since the tragedy. Herbert McKay, a son of the murdered man, vowed vengeance against the supposed murderer of his father. Yesterday morning the murdered body of McPherson was found hidden at the root of a large oak in a neighboring forest. A posse led by Herbert McKay, who is up to this time at large. This second tragedy has added much to the hostility of the two families, and further trouble is expected.

PRECEDENT COLUMBUS.—Among the pre-Columbian discoverers of America the names of the Naismen, or, properly speaking, the Icelanders, who by their low stature and features are somewhat different from the characteristic Swedes and Norwegians, and of the Welshmen under Prince Madoc are fairly well known, but those in favor of an Irishman, St. Brendan, bishop of Clonfert, in Kerry, are not so familiar to us, although they are to the French.

According to eleven different Latin manuscripts in the national library at Paris, one which dates from the eleventh century, St. Brendan left Ireland by a small boat, on a mission to the unknown world to the Atlantic. The vessel he embarked in with his companions and provisions, landed five pigs, was caught in a current, and after a voyage of many weeks he landed in a strange country where he taught the natives the rudiments of Christianity. After seven years he returned to Ireland, and subsequently sailed a second voyage to the same country, as he had promised to revisit it, but was baffled by the wind and tide, and died in the odor of sanctity in 578, aged 94 years. The curious thing is that when Cortez invaded Mexico, he found the natives in possession of a copy of the doctrine of Christianity, which they said had been taught them by a stranger who came in a long boat, who came to them from the Holy Land beyond the sea in a boat with wings' many centuries before, and promised to return to them. The advent of Cortez was in fact but a fulfillment of this tradition.—Home Journal.

LEGISLATIVE.

In the Senate to-day Mr. McDonald, of Lynchburg, presented a resolution directing the committee on privileges and elections to investigate the subject of the Australian ballot system, and if in their opinion they deem it wise and expedient, that they report a bill engrafting the system on the election laws of Virginia. The resolution was adopted. Mr. McDonald, in advocating the adoption of his resolution, said that the system had been tried in thirty-three of the States of the Union. He believed that under its provisions the President would be elected this year.

The Norfolk ferry bill passed the Senate as it came from the House. It now goes to the Governor.

The House passed Mr. Keiser's bill for an assistant female physician, to be in charge of the women's wards in the State lunatic asylum. The vote was practically unanimous. The opponents of this measure will make an effort to defeat it in the Senate.

A bill was introduced incorporating the Piedmont and Tidewater Pipe Line Company. The corporation is from Richmond and this locality. The company is authorized to construct pipe lines from Newport News or some other point on deep water to Greensboro. The object of the projectors of this scheme is to pipe the natural gas found in that county from the wells to deep water.

The bill incorporating the Baltimore, Richmond and Southern Railroad passed the House and now goes to the Senate.
